

Evaluators act as cultivators – gathering, analyzing, and sharing information to understand the impact of programs. Evaluations provide external analysis to help organizations measure their impact and/or monitor and refine activities for optimal outcomes. This leads to informed decision-making, enhanced performance, and goal attainment. Evaluations yield a rich harvest of program and organizational insights to strengthen your effectiveness.

WITH THE GRANT PLANT SUPPORTING EVALUATION YOU CAN EXPECT:

HAVE OUR TALENTED TEAM PROVIDE EVALUATION SERVICES

Whether you need assistance with developing your evaluation plan framework, building out a logic model, evaluating your results, or strategizing the move from collecting data to taking action, TGP can help you take your grant project – before you apply or after it's awarded – to the next level.

OUR TEAM WILL ENSURE YOUR PROJECT...

Advances equity

Serves your organization's needs

Improves the outcomes of your programs, services, and initiatives

Meaningful Approaches

Your staff, stakeholders, and constituents can be active in TGP's participatory, community-focused evaluation approach that emphasizes the importance of their engagement, participation, and ownership in the process.

Partnerships

You'll work with a team of TGP evaluators – experienced researchers, analysts, facilitators, and project managers – who can conduct interviews, focus groups, and reflection sessions, while identifying the best data sources.

Relevance

TGP evaluators use various evaluation approaches including equity-based frameworks to define what really matters, develop practical ways to collect data, and provide insights for better programming, reporting, and storytelling.

Overcoming the Status Quo

You'll be energized as TGP helps you break out of typical grant performance measurement data crunching while moving towards methods that support your organization's culture, values, and growth. Our evaluation products aren't intended for shelves, but for day-to-day use and sharing.